

Never Forget You

Mads Langer

It's been 730 days,
Since I fell through the cracks in your concrete
You hit the wall in me
I was sinking deep into the sea
Searching for a better life
We forgot what a perfect spot it was
Long road for the two of us
Took one step to throw it all away, away

And I, want you to know this
That I'll never forget you
For all those times
And all those nights
I'll never forget you

Were you in Paris on the first of may
I thought I saw in the corner of a café
I remember how we used to say
This is the city for the perfect getaway

I want you to know this
That I'll never forget you
For all those times
And all those nights
I'll never forget you
