My Warrior

Magellan

Lonely cries and crucified tears Terror slices from darkened graves
The moon cries over desperate years
"every right" my warrior
devils run from my warrior.

Prayers kiss this requiem hunger grovels at feet gone before no regrets - not these young men
"every right" my warrior
Devils run from my warrior.

Jesus whispers in the trenches Souls are summoned in a dark divide guts and fists - a parent clenches now my own is on his way
"every right" my warrior
devils run from my warrior

Anguish sides with the innocents rain engulfs healthy marrow mortal secrets told in confidence not this time, my warrior

Sinners howl at the nothingness spirits drink down a thirsty toll Now its selfish I must confess sweet twilight for my warrior devils pass on my warrior

Ambush waits - Raven's last chance watch the crossfire -hold on one more day bargains made in midnight penance watch your back now, my warrior.
get your friends out, my warrior

No more time for their childhood toys thanks to God, and these soldier boys
"every right we now enjoy" keeps the eyes of heaven crying...
"Thousand yard stare" - grew up hard and fast more flags are flying here at half-mast Poured in blood - this hymn is cast...
"every right" my warrior
devils run from my warrior
"every right" my warrior
devils run hard from my warrior

Take me back to the simple years you're too young to cry these tears swallow back ' my growing fears I'm at peace now my warrior Fate just return my warrior
My child my warrior.
I'll just say "thank you" to my warrior.
