

split

Maggie Lindemann

I'm not afraid to walk away, there's a reason you're to blame
You're lucky I can keep my mouth shut
One slip and you crack, I've been walking on glass
Each day is getting worse, I can't keep up

All alone, I hope you feel it
Counting spots all on your ceiling
Up all night, you saw the sunrise
Walking 'round with bags on your eyes

Split, I can't ever tell why you're mad
Dead eyes when it's getting bad
I've been under attack
I don't wanna fight back
Split, I can't ever tell why you're mad
Dead eyes when it's getting bad
Split, I've been under attack
I don't want this to last

Brace myself for the crash, good times never last
I don't know which side of you that I'll get
So you'll drink away your pain, but for me it hurt the same
You've poisoned all the love I have for you

All alone, I hope you feel it
Counting spots all on your ceiling
All my clothes sit in your closet
Broke your heart, but you're who caused it

Split, I can't ever tell why you're mad
Dead eyes when it's getting bad
I've been under attack (Attack)
I don't wanna fight back
Split, I can't ever tell why you're mad (You're mad)
Dead eyes when it's getting bad (Bad)
Split, I've been under attack (Attack)
I don't want this to last

You caused it all
It's not my fault
I won't take the blame
You cursed my name
