

you hold my love

Maggie Lindemann

Guard my heart from breaking
I've seen the truth beneath the lies
Countless nights of aching
A part of me was left to die

Trust has been my weakness
My soul has been too generous
For you, I'll always risk it
An "X" is marked across your lips

You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love

Tied a bow around my scarring
The love I feel for you is alarming
Dug a shallow grave to lay in Next to you is where I'm staying

I've been hurting for a lifetime
Unfortunate events we try to undo
Nobody makes me feel like you do

You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
You hold my love
