

All The Same

Maggie Rogers

All the same
Day by day
And suddenly, you look around and find the ground
Still feeling like it's yesterday
The lights are on and nothing's wrong
But still you can't remember when you played the game, oh
All the same

So it goes
Time moves slow
Until one day you wake up and you realize
That what you see is what you know
And still you wish for one more kiss
A moment's bliss from a lover you've always known, ooh
So it goes

Won't you wait
One more day?
Give me the chance to wake up in a full romance
Just knowing that you chose to stay
If only just to keep on hoping
Maybe even knowing there's another way, oh
Won't you wait?
