

Same Sky

Maggie Rose

We laid out in the grass, tryna catch a falling star
We listened to our dreams and the melody coming from your car
Holding on to you
Looking in your eyes
I saw it

Just like the new moon takes its turn and fades away
I used to have your heart, but your heart was made to break mine and change
Holding on to you
Looking in your eyes I see it
I see it

Oh, it used to be what's mine was yours
But now I want it all back
Can't call me baby no more
Can't tell me how to act
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky

All of the kisses I left on your lips
Oooh
The nights we loved, your hands, my hips
Oh-oh, oh-oh
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky

So you thought I weighed you down
I thought I'd liberate you
Like I said "I'm all good"
And baby it's too late
To call me on the phone
I can see you don't get it
You don't get it, no

It used to be what's mine was yours
But now I want it all back
Can't call me baby no more
Can't tell me how to act
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky

All of the kisses I left on your lips
Oooh
The nights we loved, your hands, my hips
Oh-oh, oh-oh
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky

Oh-oh, oh-oh

Same sky, same sky, same sky
The only thing that's yours and mine
Same sky, same sky, same sky
It's the only thing we share

Used to be what's mine was yours
But now I want it all back

Can't call me baby no more
Can't tell me how to act
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky

All of the kisses I left on your lips
Oooh
The nights we loved, your hands, my hips
Oh-oh, oh-oh
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky
Ohhh
Same sky, same sky, same sky
The only thing we share tonight
Is we're underneath the same sky
