

Same Way

Maggie Rose

Why you always running when we're headed to the same place
We can't get there together if we never set the same pace
We're trying to write the story we don't tell it the same way
We can't write the ending if we're never on the same page

You used to say you loved the way I wore my heart out on my sleeve

Now you're always saying my emotions get the best of me
I keep giving into you I keep giving up on me
Are you staying for the comfort or just staying for necessity

If you're an oak guess I'm a willow
You'll be the stone I'll be the pillow
Where you can lay your head and we'll pretend
We'll make it through it's always been you
Thought we'd get old, thought it'd get better
Want you to grow could we grow together
Scared to leave but hurts to stay
Selfish to say
Wish we could change the same way

We've both been seeing blue but I don't think we see the same shade

We both can be the moon but doesn't mean we're in the same phase

You can keep on smiling you keep trying just to save face
What if I am breaking what if I don't want to be brave

If you're an oak guess I'm a willow
You'll be the stone I'll be the pillow
Where you can lay your head and we'll pretend
We'll make it through it's always been you
Thought we'd get old, thought it'd get better
Want you to grow could we grow together
Scared to leave but hurts to stay
Selfish to say
Wish we could change the same way
