

Things You Say

Magic!

The things you say
Could have me rethink every choice I ever made
Turn my sunshine into dark and gloomy days
But just to turn a phrase oh no, yeah

The things you say
Could take my broken, shattered, lonely melody
And turn them into perfect dances, symphonies
Shooting like the stars in the night sky
Beautiful like heaven in daylight
You got me hanging on to your every word
So be careful with the things you say

The things you say
Could have me questioning my own reality
Turn my glory into jealousy and rage
Oh the power of the things you say

The things you say
Could take the sky to tired weakest parts of me
And turn 'em into power I've never attained
Breaking through the limits of my pride
Sever me for reasons to not try
Got me hanging onto your every word
So be careful with the things you say

Every word, every word
You say, you say
Every word, every word
You say, you say, you say

The things you say
Can make me love you in the most amazing ways
Or fill my heart with only loneliness and pain
'Cause I listen to the things you say
