

Drown

Magna-Fi

I need to hear your voice.
To know you're there.
I need to feel your arms around me.
To make me whole again.
And you won't have to worry that there's no one you can trust.

I want to drown in everything you are.
Drown.
Let me fall so far.
I want to drown.
In everything you are.
Everything you are.

You left me kneeling, burning down one side overcome by sorrow.
You don't know how hard I tried.
In every give there's take away.
Just let me take it back.

I need to hear your voice.
To know that you're there.
I need to break this silence.
To know that you still care.
When every nerve is screaming
God don't let this be unfair.

I want to drown in everything...
Everything you are.
