

Miserable Failure

Magna-Fi

How's it gonna be when you're alone?
One more circumstance you should have known
Broken promises make broken bones
It's a shame
You're a shame

You miserable failure
You let me down again
I always gave you the benefit
The benefit of the down

Take your bloody hands and wash them clean
Twist the truth; it's just a lie to me
Strangle the life from the American dream
Everything you've ever touched
Falls apart and turns to dust

You miserable failure
You let me down again
I always gave you the benefit
The benefit of the down

Go on, grow another fit
So bad, no one's fixing it
The great light of hope
Turned into a joke
Is that your legacy, master of hypocrisy?

You miserable failure
You let me down again
I always gave you the benefit
The benefit of the down
