

Different Worlds

Magnum

On narrow streets old men lie
In the doorway sleeping
While working girls comb their hair
See the young men peeping

Different worlds
Only a walk across the street
Different worlds
You never know what you might meet

No satin sheets on your bed tonight
How you feeling?
While running feet always disappear
From sirens screaming

Different worlds
Only a walk across the street
Different worlds
You never know what you might meet

I said
Some of us take what we want
Some of us take what we need
Some of us break
Some of us bleed

Where velvet gloves and your diamond rings
Lose their meaning
For those we love, if they really care
Keep on dreaming
Dream on

Different worlds
Only a walk across the street
Different worlds
You never know what you might meet

I said
Some of us take what we want
Some of us take what we need
Some of us break
Some of us bleed
Don't want to bleed

Some of us take what we want
Some of us take what we need
Some of us break
Some of us bleed

Different worlds
Only a walk across the street
Different worlds
You never know what you might meet

Some of us take what we want
Some of us take what we need
Some of us break

Some of us bleed

Some of us take

Some of us take, oh, no

Some of us break

Some of us bleed, bleed, bleed

Some of us take

Some of us take
