

My Heart Soaks Up Every Drop of Your Blood

Majical Cloudz

Hate them like they hate you, too
Treat them like you want to
Violent dreams excite you
But they won't set you free

Something else is in you
But you won't let it out
In your eyes, I can see you are screaming now

Hold on, little one
Love will come when you learn to trust
You are a seed in a pile of dust
My heart soaks every drop of your blood
It's not what you need
It's just what you do
It's just what you do

Burn them like they burned you, too
Make them want to hold on to you
Breaking hearts is useless
Cause you were always free

Something else is in you
But you won't let it show
In your eyes, I can see you would die to let go

Hold on, little one
Love will come when you learn to trust
You are a seed in a pile of dust
My heart soaks every drop of your blood
It's not what you need
It's just what you do
It's just what you do
