

Soul Decay

Make Them Suffer

You cry yourself an ocean
And corrode your empty heart
You break what isn't broken
Then pretend to fall apart
So now you're smiling ear to ear
So proud to be wasted, down and out
Until you face your fears
You'll never find yourself

I watched you fall from grace
I watched your soul decay

You play the perfect victim
You built yourself this prison
Your soul decay
Buried in bad decisions
But they're all self-inflicted
You bare the blame
You bare the blame, soul decay

You speak what isn't spoken
To fill your empty heart
Reading into every omen
Like you were doomed from the start
Now you're smiling ear to ear
So proud to be wasted, down and out
Until you face your fears
You'll never find yourself

You play the perfect victim
You built yourself this prison
Your soul decay
Buried in bad decisions
But they're all self-inflicted
You bare the blame
You bare the blame

I watched you fall from grace
You built yourself this prison
Tear it down
Burn it to the fucking ground
Yeah
Burn it to the fucking ground

You play the perfect victim
You built yourself this prison
Your soul decay
Buried in bad decisions
But they're all self-inflicted
You bare the blame
You bare the blame, soul decay
Soul decay
