

Uncharted

Make Them Suffer

To find yourself in a digital realm, abandon your physical form
To lose oneself is to find oneself; until which, you would hunger for more

So now we plunge through the clouds, with the cosmos above us
Let's do the darkest of bounds, with only stars to guide us

(Eyes open wide)

Radiant and bright, in painted coloured lines

A new plain lies inside us

(Now my soul glows inside)

Luminous the guides, that glimmer in the skies

Now unchained with only lights to guide us

So now we plunge through the clouds, with the cosmos above us
Let's do the darkest of bounds, with only stars to guide us

Deep inside us

Listen closely, let the darkness guide us

Deep inside us

Sometimes it's the scars on our hearts that drives us

It's fine to stay, if that's what you wanted
