

Till We're Gone

Makeout

Sinking low and feeling like I'm out of time
Now the clock is ticking on, least I'm still alive
I believe if we just keep going, soon enough life will fill with meaning
Keep the search hot right until the end, the end, the end

This year will fade into a memory
This life will live through all the centuries
Time will change us, that won't faze our hearts
This day will fade into a memory
Till we're gone, gone
Till we're gone, gone

Atmosphere is fading, a different kind of pain
Seems like life is racing on, who will take my place?
I believe if we don't stop reaching, soon enough we will find a reason
To keep the search hot right until the end, the end, the end

This year will fade into a memory
This life will live through all the centuries
Time will change us, that won't faze our hearts
This day will fade into a memory
Till we're gone, gone

If only I could rewind my timeline
If only I could rewire my lost mind
Every time I think about the places we went
Yeah and every single person that we gave up and left
Can't get back, can't get back
Can't get back, can't get back
What's gone, gone
What's gone

This year will fade into a memory
This life will live through all the centuries
Time will change us, that won't faze our hearts
This day will fade into a memory

This year will fade into a memory
This life will live through all the centuries
Time will change us, that won't faze our hearts
This day will fade into a memory
Till we're gone, gone
Till we're gone, gone
Till we're gone, gone
Till we're gone, gone
