

The Wagon

Mako

I don't know when I caught you deep in my mind, no
But you run around, run around, run around it
I'd leave The Wagon just to drink in your eyes one night again
If you let me die, let me die, let me dive in
Cause you're still lurking underneath the soul
Lead me deeper down the rabbit hole
And here I'm nearly drowning, let the walls collapse around
You found the air to breathe again
The end

And if I let it haunt me every night, night, my love
Would you leave a light, leave a light, leave a light on?
And now I'm empty where you'd fill up all my, my, my love
Let me die, let me die, let me dive in

Can't hardly bear to know the wounds that I caused you
After one like, one like, one like this
I'd give up everything to make it alright one night again
Can't look at what I, look what I, look what I did

Cause you're still lurking underneath the soul
Lead me deeper down the rabbit hole
And here I'm nearly drowning, let the walls collapse around
You found the air to breathe again
The end

And if I let it haunt me every night, night, my love
Would you leave a light, leave a light, leave a light on?
And now I'm empty where you'd fill up all my, my, my love
If you let me die, let me die, let me dive in

I don't know when I caught you deep in my mind
And now I'm empty where you'd fill up all my, my, my love
