

I think I know you so well
But last night I gave up, up in the hotel
Scratched your back and went dead in the eyes
It's new to me
But you said it is okay
I sang my words, I've got none left to say
I wanna go, but you won't go tonight
Fine, it's alright, it's alright

(Two, three, one, two, three)

Baby, I've done let you go
One time for the two times I tried not to show
My heart was in half from the things that you do
I love it, but baby, I cannot love you

Baby, I've done let you go
One time for the two times I tried not to show
My heart was in half from the things that you do
I love it, but baby, I cannot love you
