

When Embers Ignite

Malefice

As embers ignite in my soul
I feel so fking helpless
Today's like any day, nothing's ever straight forward
Another tailed plan, another sacrifice

They pull together to bring me down
And it feels like that nothing changes

I can't stop these feelings inside of me
I can not dull them
The walls come crashing in
The chaos repeats

I walk a tightrope now, wait for me to fall
Another friendly face, strips me of dignity
A vicious circle rolls around, and around, and around

They pull together to bring me down
And it feels like that nothing changes

I can't stop these feelings inside of me
I can not dull them
The walls come crashing in
The chaos repeats

Hear these words, I speak from the heart
Embers fall, the fire ignites

They pull together to bring me down
And it feels like that nothing changes

I can't stop these feelings inside of me
I can not dull them
The walls come crashing in
The chaos repeats
