

Me

Mallary Hope

I could be stronger, I could be braver
I could be someone who is never called a failure
I could have less doubt, I could have more faith
But I can come to You bold and unafraid

I can be me
A broken mess You knit together perfectly
A child You'll love no matter what the world may see
In Your eyes there's no one else I need to be
I just need to be me

I can be honest, I can be fearless
Unashamed to show my every weakness
I can stop comparing, because You've promised
Just as I am is all You ever wanted

I can be me
A broken mess You knit together perfectly
A child You'll love no matter what the world may see
In Your eyes there's no one else I need to be
I just need to be me

You are strongest in my weakness
I am Yours and I am free
I could be stronger, I could be braver
But I know to You it's never gonna matter

I can be me
A broken mess You knit together perfectly
A child You'll love no matter what the world may see
In Your eyes there's no one else I need to be
I just need to be me

Need to be me
It's okay to be me
