

Texas

Mallrat

You think you look better
I know you feel worse
If nothing went numb I think something would hurt
I've seen this before never thought you'd be het
You're young and you're precious, your laugh is infectious
Your heart's big as Texas, don't think you're reckless
But maybe you strayed from the cross on your necklace
And now I feel selfish 'cause I miss my best friend
Still skipping breakfast and higher than Everest, alright
Slowing down the time
You can say you're fine but this is too familiar
You know it runs in mind
I don't wanna fight
Or overstep the line
But this is too familiar
You know it runs in mind
I've been sleeping all day for my baby
It's my cotton ball putting up another wall
Way of escaping
Being awake isn't what I wanna be here
I wanna be asleep
Or I wanna be a bird
Or I wanna be a tree
Or be living by the sea
I don't wanna be a creep
I wanna be asleep
Dreams would be nice but then nothing is fine for now
I should have more on my mind
I don't mind but I'd say that we're fine
I've been adamant, I'm not a fan of it
Honestly thinking that something is up
Know you're the same but I'm not gonna ask
What would I ask
(Not gonna ask)
Slowing down the time
You can say you're fine, but this is too familiar
You know it runs in mind
I don't wanna fight
Or overstep the line
But this is too familiar
You know it runs in mind
Slowing down the time
You can say you're fine, but this is too familiar
You know it runs in mind
I don't wanna fight
Different things and picking on dreams
And picking on me when I tried picking you up
Tried not giving you up
And when I die I'll ask if I did enough
I'll pray that I'll live to know that I did
Pray for your weight and you wait for your freight
That you ordered online and I stay
Boxes arrive, I try waking you up again
Boxes arrived, you were taking too much again

Somebody said, I say thank you too much again
Back to school late without any lunch again
I'm not giving you up
No one's taught we're pretty on the outside
Lies you tell are pretty much outright
And I hate it when we speak
Counting sheep, I'm tryna sleep
Your heart's big as Texas
Your heart's big as Texas
