

Beyond

Malrun

In fear of deprivation We set our sails again In search for alt eration We'll go on till the end

I reach for you, to take me far away from here Come guide me th rough the night I hide in my eyes

The night inside my eyes

We head out for Columbus skies Into uncharted wilds We trust in our Columbus sight And sail the thousand miles

I reach for you, to take me far away from here Come guide me th
rough the night I hide in my eyes

I reach for you, to make me feel alive Come guide me through th e night I hide in my eyes

We search our souls to find within this suit of flesh we're car rying Another day, another way, another ship to sail astray

We search our souls to find within this suit of flesh we're car rying. What if we find nothing inside What if intentions is all we hide