

Justine

Malrun

There's a moaning in the night
Just listen well
Though the Moon is shining bright
No light can penetrate this
Moral decay
Behind the virtuous cloak
They will have their way
Where's the oath?
Hold out, Justine
Just close your eyes
While they're taking turns
Ravaging the sweetness
Of a young girl
In the corner of her eye
You'll see a spark
And to those who stand nearby
You'll notice it is fading
Into a dull
And lifeless nuance of grey
Are you satisfied?
Hold out, Justine
Just close your eyes
While they're taking turns
Ravaging the sweetness
Of a young girl
Know the enemy?
We're the enemy!
The pure heart is so damn easy
Easy to break!
Are you proud of your achievement?
Hold out, Justine
Just close your eyes
While they're taking turns
Ravaging the sweetness
Of a young girl
