

Frozen Sleep

Malukah

Wait in the dark
With the memories that replay my lonesome fears
And my mind
Is betrayed by time passing by
And I just need you to wake up
I'm gonna need you to save us
And take me home

Feel the madness taking over
While you lay in frozen sleep
Though my life's now fading
You're still a promise I will keep

Wait in the dark
Every feeling becomes so magnified
And my mind
Goes on and on
I'm trying to hold on
But I keep losing control of
All I know

Though my life's now fading
You're still a promise I will keep

You'll always be
My sword, my shield
