Running From, Running From

Malukah

I closed my eyes
I closed the window and said goodbye
And I broke down, down
Once you couldn't see my cry

I was scared to let you know
So, instead I let you go

I hear your voice inside my mind
Suddenly see that all I need
Is what I've been running from, running from
I'm drowning in your crystal lips
Suddenly see you're all I need
So why am I running from, running from you?

I was broken
Chasing after scattered dreams
I was far away from
Everything that matters to me

I was scared to let you know
So I tried to let you go

I hear your voice inside my mind
Suddenly see that all I need
Is what I've been running from, running from
I'm drowning in your crystal lips
Suddenly see you're all I need
I gonna stop running from, running from you

Finally said it out loud
I'm gonna stop running from you
