

You Make It Easy

Malukah

So much to say
But I couldn't utter a sound
'Til you called my name
And lifted my eyes from the ground
You gave me the strength to run
To the edge of the world and back
With your love, I found my way back

You make it easy to come home
You make it easy to come home

You built me a stage
Where I could confront all my fears
And helped me persuade
My heart not to disappear
I never thought that I could
Learn to love my flaws and my failures
But, your compassion's contagious

You make it easy to come home
You make it easy to come home

When I try
To hide behind self-deprecation
You drag me out
And show me how to be courageous
Your compassion's contagious

You make it easy to come home
Every day you make it easy, so easy
Easy to come home
