Just imagine, I know you want it. Stick with me.

The way you talk always mysteriously stays near my ears

My face grows red (and my heart gets excited)

Inside the square bus

I faintly hear a well-known song

At some point (falling into you)

What's there to think about?

Wanna walk together now? (boy)

You know but pretend you don't, I fall in love

Wanna take the subway or walking in the rain

Between the clouds, as if it's slippery and slowly

We are already walking

My heart feels like a refreshing mint
At the blowing scent that makes me feel good
Without knowing (falling into love)

What's there to think about?
Wanna walk together now? (boy)

You know but pretend you don't, I fall in love
Wanna take the subway or walking in the rain

Between the clouds, as if it's slippery and slowly
We are already walking

I didn't want anything (love lane)
I'm not even dreaming but why am I so nervous?

You know but pretend you don't, I fall in love
Wanna take the subway or walking in the rain

Between the clouds, as if it's slippery and slowly
We are already walking
