

Why do I find myself here at the gates of hell
An afterparty for somebody I don't know so well
There's a cop on the roof kissing dudes with attitude
It's frightening
He's biting them

Take me home, please take me home
Take me home, this party sucks

Coquettes of symmetry
They're doing lines of poetry
It's Rimbaud cliff notes

Two tech bros on the lawn
They're talking about their elongated Lambos
Hell no

Take me home, please take me home
Take me home, this party sucks
Take me home, please take me home
Take me home, this party sucks

Trapped in a corner without you
Trapped in a corner with a mouth breather all night
Chewing my ear off about cryptozoology
And I would rather be anywhere but here

And I'm overheating
From the life I've eaten
Up is down and the floor's the ceiling
Space is infinite and so is pain
And our capacity to love and hate

Take me home, please take me home
Take me home, this party sucks
Take me home, please take me home
Take me home, this party sucks

Trapped in a corner without you
Trapped in a corner with a mouth breather all night
Chewing my ear off about cryptozoology
And I would rather be dancing with the stars
Dancing with the stars
Dancing with the stars
Dancing with the stars

If I leave the window open
Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into my eye

If I leave the window open
Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into my eye

If I leave the window open

Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into

If I leave the window open
Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into

Will you crawl into
My head
Will you crawl into
My head
Will you crawl into
Will you crawl into
