

Dig Deep

Man Man

Oh, it's no secret
Or untold mystery
This world that we're born into Tiptoes the line and runs between

Chaos and beauty
Violence and love
Hate and forgiveness
Forever testing the strength of our spirit
Will we snap or will we sing?

You gotta dig deep
You gotta dig deeper
And never forget who you are
And never forget to remember

That when life decides to take a swing
Everybody breaks, it's how you maintain
A state of grace in your heart

And if you're feeling
Life is an island
And you're abandoning
The wilderness of human indecision

And your faith, it quits you
Like an empty parachute
And you're falling into the darkness
Gotta remember you're not alone
Don't snap and always know

You gotta dig deep
You gotta dig deeper
And never forget who you are
And never forget to remember

That your heart, oh it ain't carved of stone
It takes compassion to weather the storm
And a state of grace in your heart

In the blink of a lifetime
I've seen the struggle for change
And the kind of tragedies that would
Freeze a river of ice in your veins

You gotta hold your head high
And your hands even higher
And know you're not alone

You gotta dig deep
You gotta dig deeper
And never forget who you are
And never forget to remember

That when life decides to take a swing
Everybody breaks, it's how you maintain
A state of grace in your heart

A state of grace in your heart
