

Dump Me

Man Overboard

I need to back out, this is going too far
We can't go for five minutes without yelling, "I don't know who you are"

I'm in over my head, maybe scared a little bit
This was nice and neat and sweet, but we fell apart

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't I just stay home?

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't I just stay home

And beg and not answer the phone?

I miss the old you and I wish she would come back
And I miss myself too. Why don't I go to your room and pack
Could you at least try just the slightest amount?
A tiny little smile or a kiss on the cheek,
Well it wouldn't fix it all but sure as hell would help

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't I just stay home?

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't I just stay home

And beg and not answer the phone?

'Cause it really really really isn't fun to be
Someones every problem and worse enemy.

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't you just say so?

Out of control,
Don't know how to react.
I'm going home
And not coming back

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't I just stay home?

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't I just stay home

And beg and not answer the phone?

'Cause it really really really isn't fun to be
Someones every problem and worse enemy.

If you're gonna dump me when I get to your door why don't you just say so?
