

Chasing the Horizon

MAN WITH A MISSION

Once upon a time ago we tried to fly
We broke our bones together together
Soon as we remember
Why we'll try to make another lie together forever

Set the fire Now it's your call
Start it over cause today we have it all

Oh we are the ones
Never cared about tomorrow chasing the horizon to be gold
Oh we are the ones
Counting all the stars we follow chasing the horizon to stay gold

Over shoes and over boots
Ignoring all the boring rules whatever whatever
So absurd somehow divine
We felt the freedom felt the vibe together forever

Set the fire Now it's your call
Start it over cause today we have it all

Oh we are the ones
Never cared about tomorrow chasing the horizon to be gold
Oh we are the ones
Counting all the stars we follow chasing the horizon to stay gold

No matter what may come up in our future
No matter how the answers might be wrong
All those winding roads we took
Can never be negated
Everything we've went through was so gold
So gold

Once upon a time ago we tried to fly
We broke our bones we choose to be the foolish ones
Cause today we have it all

Oh we are the ones
Oh we are the ones
Oh we are the ones

Never cared about tomorrow chasing the horizon to be Chasing the horizon till we
Oh we are the ones dealing with the mostly dared
Oh we are the ones chasing the horizon to be
Oh we are the ones
Counting all the stars we follow chasing the horizon to stay gold
