

Diamonds

Manafest

I throw myself out my own house
Couldn't stop myself
So I just walked out

Almost did it again
Spoke too soon
Called a couple of friends

Blood boiled over
I'll be cool in a minute
Kicked a few things
That's enough are you finished

Heart in hand
Calm as I walk in the door
Hold my breath
When I left out a roar
Even good men need a little grace
Put the world down
And pick up faith

Only scared boys try to save face
Pride in the mouth
It's a bitter taste
Spit it out

Don't want it don't need it
Put it down and I just leave it
But I keep hearing it talk to me
Knows what I'm thinking
Like it's on to me
Hold my breath
When it's hard to breathe

Cause I know
Diamonds aren't the only thing that shines
And I know
Love can make the darkness sing

I need a strong tower
Will power no coward
Take back the flowers sell the casket
My soul's established found a passage
Strike the matches light my black
And white the sky
Wipe my fears redeem the time

The bathroom mirror
I'm eye to eye
Look inside my soul and try
To talk the guy if he's still alive
Pinch myself
Try not to cry

Walking by the sea of a great divide
Left my print I still survived
Is this the one the time is now

My moment jump and leave the crowd

Walking with a king
I'm tall and proud standing re-born
Got the victor's crown

(2x)

Cause I know
And I know

I no longer have to wait
For the spark that covers me
It's a stand for me to take
It's not a wand that we can wave

(2x)

It's the faith like a child that counts when
I try to do what I think I feel is right
But it's never been something I control
It's so hard to commit when I don't know

(2x)

Cause I know
And I know
