

No Stranger To The Pain

Manafest

Mamma pray hard for this stone heart
Heaven knows this road feels so long
The right way, feels so wrong
God show me where I belong
I'm a misfit in these strange days
Try to fit in find my pathway
In the back row on a Sunday
Sinner turned saint am I too late

No stranger to the pain
No stranger to the pain
No stranger to the pain
Gotta fight inside the rain
Feel trapped I never change
I'm knockin at the gate
No stranger to the pain

I strayed so far
Till there were no stars
No hope no one to leave a light on
On a one way
Down the highway
In a minefield lost in my own maze
Keep getting burnt by the same flame
Keep taking turns living two faced
Every new day's just a new cage
Anybody else feel the same way?

No stranger to the pain
No stranger to the pain
No stranger to the pain
Gotta fight inside the rain
Feel trapped I never change
I'm knockin at the gate
No stranger to the pain

How far have I fallen
How low have I gotten
Driving nails in my coffin
Tryna' bury my problems
I'll be the last to admit it
He's the first to forgive it
I'm forsaking my ways
Cause I'm ready for change
Burning these bridges
I'm a man on a mission
I made my decision
Walking out of this prison
Covered in bruises
It's all over my music
In this war that I wage
I'm no stranger to the pain

No stranger to the pain

Feel trapped I never change
