Manafest

Hey yo!

Way back when, when I was 18

I chased dreams, chased girls

Chased anything in tight jeans

I faced things as a teen and got caught

Charged by the cops in the mall parking lot

So this is part 2, moms look at me now

I wound up with a second chance

New man, new ideas, new plan from the man

I came out swingin', not thinkin' just drinkin'

Blinkin' my eyes wakin' up still alive

Why I did what I did I don't know

But I do know God's got my soul saved in escrow

When there's a fork in the road I know where to go

I'm not a domino fallin' into problems no

Follow me, follow [?] to the heavenlies

There's a secret locked down in the melody

(Secret locked down in the melody)

Just like the problems these days can take

I can't complain

My soul's been changed

The looking glass shows a man of shame

But I said [?]

We'll never meet again

I see it like there's only one way out

Like for me to [?] it's like I'm turning around

Somehow I started rhymin' and puttin' it down

My whole life's been about me dying to self

I've found that I could speak to [?] teach and preach

Be a light to the world so seen and get heard

These are the keys to life

I've seen it work

I believe what I read it's Christ in my verse

I used to be the nerd, too scared to talk to her

My nerves would have me shake, I wouldn't look you in the face

Came with stamina, now I'm on camera

Puttin' in works, still lookin' to serve

I'm not the same kid you saw a few years ago

I'm not the same kid you saw a just a month ago

I met the vertigo, changin' my scenario

No day's the same, my faith has me changed

I've been down the road and back again with accidents

Now I'm back with a love so passionate

(So passionate)

Just like the problems these days can take

I can't complain

My soul's been changed

The looking glass shows a man of shame

But I said [?]

We'll never meet again

Just like the problems these days can take

I can't complain

My soul's been changed

The looking glass shows a man of shame

But I said [?]

We'll never meet again

(No-oh)
