

Burning Up

Mando Diao

I don't remember your name
But I recall your smell
I don't remember your face
But I still feel your skin

That moonshine
That starlight fall
The tender lips of yours

My body's gentle thrill
From that sleeping pill
Don't need chemicals
When you are made of stars

I don't remember your name

And I'm just burning up
If I can't have you around me
Lord I'm burning up
All the things won't leave me
Wanting more
My burning up
When I live of those who kill
My burning up
And I'm always wanting more
Oh I'm burning up
Lord I'm burning up

Burning up

Just wanna know where you're from
And why you're sent to me
I just wanna know where you're going
And why we're bound to be

That turns that right
On the clear moonlight
Where all dreams came to life

My body's gentle thrill
From that sleeping pill
Don't need chemicals
When I am made of stars

I don't remember your name

But I'm just burning up
If I can't have you around me
Lord I'm burning up
All the things won't leave me
Wanting more
My burning up
When I live of those who kill
My burning up
And I'm always wanting more

Yeah I'm burning up

I don't remember your clothes
But I can taste your blood
I don't remember your blow
But I just know you're gone

But like the ocean lights
under Casablanca skies

We will find a home
And of all the chosen ones
We will get out
Before the morning comes

We have no other choice
But to caving for our love

Now I remember your name

And I'm just burning up
If I can't have you around me
Lord I'm burning up
Wanting more
My burning up
When I live of those who kill
My burning up
