

Fade away...
All that we have dreamed of Bergman said it all, the magic is in the fall, so true...

When you see him tell him all that you don't know all how much we've grown so I cry but like always, I don't feel that much in here so I sit by your side just to be near you oh lord please don't take him yet

Now you're gone, you're with angels I will soon come visit you and talk about, the time we had together and our town is filled with tears

Don't feel bad while you're there life was only sad sad while you were here filled with rage and fear and now I sit by your side but you can't hear me you can always count on me

Don't feel sad, you're with angels
now our town is filled with tears

So I sit by your side although you're not with me when I comfort you, when I come to you

And like always, right here by your side

Don't feel sad, you're with angels
I will soon come visit you
and our town is filled with tears
