

Falling Down

Mandy Harvey

I know I'm falling again I see the ground approaching
Maybe if I close my eyes I'll fly away
But I fall again
I fall again
I fall again, fool heartedly

And as I slip through the sky I wish the clouds would catch me
So I can stay up high and view the world from above
But I fall again
I fall again
I fall again, fool heartedly

And as I peek
I scream aloud, a little warning
Afraid to be just asleep
And it all
A dream

When I first saw your smile I tumbled blindly on Always hoping that this time we would go far beyond
Falling down
We're falling down
We're falling down, fool heartedly

And as I peek
I scream aloud, a little warning
Afraid to be just asleep
And it all
A dream

I know I'm falling again I see the ground approaching
