Heartlands

Mandy Moore

I always loved that you're a wanderer
But you wander off when things get hard
All of your greatest hits I've ever heard
Are featuring you going way too far

I've made peace with all the pieces
That you left along the way
I've been watching all your seasons
Just I've been waiting for the change

When you're flying a bit too high (Oh-oh-oh)
When you're driving with no hands
I won't say how to live your life
But I'll be here when your heart lands

You make it difficult to be a friend
'Cause I won't agree to disagree
I can be quiet till the bitter end
If that's what you need from me

You've got reasons for the reasons
How it's never quite your fault
I've been watching all your seasons
I've been waiting for the fall

When you're flying a bit too high
When you're driving with no hands
I won't say how to live your life
But I'll be here when your heart lands

If you take off just take all the time you need
The northern star is always where it needs to be
If you take off
Remember to save a seat for me

When you're flying a bit too high
When you're driving with no hands
I won't say how to live your life
But I'll be here when your heart lands

And I'll be when your heart lands
I'll be here when your heart lands
