MANILA GREY

Ever since you came around life been different (ghost)
I've been seeing things in a different light with you (bet a bag I'ma ball)

Addicted to money and counting racks
Addicted to your body love how you do your dance
You love yourself enough don't really need a man
But you love when I come around and text to forget about your plans yeah

Don't worry bout it yeah that's all me (yeah it's all me)
Don't worry baby yeah that's all me (on me)
You know that pussy yeah that's all me (on me)
No one know me how you know me

Now slide through baby whatchu saying
You don't even really need to understand the game
I know your past broke you down forget about them lames
You said you wanted "real" baby I'm happy that you came
I got what you want don't need nothing in exchange
Just that smile on your face after long long days
I been through some things so you know I've seen the pain
But I've always been the type yeah to move against the grain
(Yeah we move against em)
This our chance to flip a new page
OG's taught me don't play too safe
So when it come to you I'll bet a bag
Chasing everything I never had at all, now I'm

I take you out I need that all (on me)
Ain't gotta stress just put that all (on me)
I got your back yeah you can call (on me)
Just take your love and put that all (on me)

Used to see love like it's a trap
All that toxic bullshit I couldn't sit with that
All the "who you with and where you at?" and tellin' me "that's cap"
False accusations always came without the facts
Then you came around, told you not to fall in love nah you ain't allowed
Told me "don't start thinkin' bout me when I ain't around"
I was moving good without you but I'm better now (bet a bag I'ma)
Props to you for getting through to me
Understand that this all new to me
I was broken so the potion helped the feeling
All the drugs and the women unforgiving, lately been
