

Broken

Måns Zelmerlöw

I don't know what kind of demons they are, but they suck
They're the kind that mean trouble
Wish I didn't take it in, but somehow I fuck up
And they leave me here to struggle

Never meant to take us here
You don't deserve any of this
Can we forget whatever happened here?
How do we ever come back from it?

Maybe it had to be broken
For me to realize what could've been lost
All of the times that I've fallen
I think I needed to live without you
To understand that I should grow up too

All I wanted was to tell you, but scared you were charged
So I kept it all covered
Held my feelings to myself and they kept piling up
Until you discovered

I'm out of words, out of apologizing
How do we ever come back from this?

Maybe it had to be broken
For me to realize what could've been lost
All of the times that I've fallen
I think I needed to live without you
To understand that I should grow up too

Oh, I promise, I'm leaving
I'll get you the moon if you need it
I know my devil's defeated
Oh, hold on, promise, I mean it
I just need you to believe it
My devil's defeated

Maybe it had to be broken
For me to realize what could've been lost
All of the times that I've fallen
I think I needed to live without you

All of the times that I've fallen
I think I needed to live without you
To understand that I should grow up too
