

Wrong Decision

Måns Zelmerlöw

It was instant, I knew it Wasn't ready to do it Wasn't ready to say "yes" at the time

Hardly knew one another
Favorite kind, favorite color
It's not enough, not enough
When choosing life

I was relieved like a weight off my shoulders
I was okay, it would soon be all over
So why am I stuck here filled with doubt?

I know it's too late 'cause it's already broken,
and I can't turn the wheel
But if I could, would it be any different?
Did I just make you make the wrong decision?
Never thought it would ever be easy
But not as hard as this
Before today you were mine you were real,
think I just made you make the wrong decision,
yeah

I'm not okay
I'm not okay
I'm not okay
I'm not okay

How you're holding together?
I know you'll always remember
I remember the day I caught your eye
Don't regret it a second
How you got my attention
But it was not my intention of losing life

I was relieved like a weight off my shoulders
I was okay, it would soon be all over
So why am I stuck here filled with doubt?

I know it's too late 'cause it's already broken,
and I can't turn the wheel
But if I could, would it be any different?
Did I just make you make the wrong decision?
Never thought it would ever be easy
But not as hard as this
Before today you were mine you were real,
think I just made you make the wrong decision,
yeah

I'm not okay
I'm not okay
I'm not okay
I'm not okay

I'll always have my doubts about it
Wondering what it be like Looking into your eyes

I know it's too late 'cause it's already broken,
and I can't turn the wheel
But if I could, would it be any different?
Did I just make you make the wrong decision?
Never thought it would ever be easy
But not as hard as this
Before today you were mine you were real,
think I just made you make the wrong decision,
yeah

I'm not okay
I'm not okay
I'm not okay
I'm not okay

I'm not okay
I'm not okay
