

Keep Telling Myself

Mansun

Keep telling myself
Day after day I go on and on
So I appeal to the God above
A million men go marching on
They look at the moon but I look at the sun
Because I believe in something else
Helping me through when my soul is spent
Spent

It's something that's in me
Something that drives me on
When I wanna give up
I just keep repeating
The world is so wonderful
I tell myself

I keep telling myself
Day after day I go on and on
So I appeal to the God above
A million men go marching on
They look at the moon but I look at the sun
Because I believe in something else
Helping me through when my soul is spent
Spent
My soul is spent

Keep telling myself
Keep telling myself
I keep telling myself

That everything's alright
Everything's alright I keep telling myself
There must be a reason
There's got to be something else
'Cause of what's gone on

I keep telling myself
Day after day I go on and on
So I appeal to the God above
A million men go marching on
They look at the moon but I look at the sun
Because I believe in something else
Helping me through when my soul is spent
Spent
My soul is spent

My soul is spent
My soul is spent
