

K.V.

Marble Sounds

You're braced and undercover
Prepared to give it all
The focus on the finish
Not on the curtain call

You run to win them over
You'll win to prove them wrong
There was a time to settle
But now the game is on

What a perfect day
For turning up to disobey
To slowly change the course of time

Shape your self-esteem
It only takes one girl to be
The first to ever cross that line

If you can play it out
They'll get it right

All eyes on every movement
As you avert the fight
Unaware this moment
Will stand the test of time

You chose not to confide in
The ones that think you're done
They better keep their statements
Before the bet is won

What a perfect day
For turning up to disobey
To slowly change the course of time

Shape your self-esteem
It only takes one girl to be
The first to ever cross that line

If you can play it out
They'll get it right

Racing for the word to get out
Where it's never gonna die