Set the Rules

Marble Sounds

You chose me to climb
The greatest of heights
But I can cope

If bravery feels fake
And courage comes late
I still got hope

Your hand struck a chord
That triggered the words
That eased my heart

I'll take every blow
As if i don't know
That ain't too smart

We can set the rules
Set them alight

The whitest of lies
Get dirty in time
When they're shout out loud

It's hard to persuade
The power that hates
The slightest doubt

But wait until when
We break their defense
And take off for good

'Cause once in a while
We need to be fired up
by something new

We can set the rules
Set them alight

Don't hold onto fame
It waxes and wanes
'Til it fades away

The fear of decline
Stopped me to deny
What it's all about

We could set the rules

We could set the rules
Set them alight
