

The First Try

Marble Sounds

So much for some good advice
We drop out on the first try
We flee before we even fight

"It's just a phase" is just a phrase used back in my old days to tell me to sit back and wait

But we will get to roll again
We will do what it takes
All that needs a long debate
I don't need to know

Here's to another try
To move on to a different start
Ready for the rise
Ready for the second part
Hardly playing safe
We're drifting on a higher wave
To another try
If a challenge comes to mind
I will give a sign

So much for a bit of truth
The proof that might offend you
Conclusions we'll be reaching soon

It's easier to say than do
To stop you than to guide you
'Cause who knows what we're heading to

But we will get to roll again
We will do what it takes
All that needs a long debate
I don't need to know

Here's to another try
To move on to a different start
Ready for the rise
Ready for the second part
Hardly playing safe
We're drifting on a higher wave
To another try
If a challenge comes to mind
I will give a sign

We will get to roll again
All that's hardly worth the wait says it's time to go
For another try
