

The Pain of Never

Marc Almond

A loving fulfilled
A dream that was killed
It lasts forever
A name never known
No interest shown
The pain of never

Over count the glances, thoughts, romances
Oh, so close and yet so far away

It lasts forever, the pain of never
So much beauty in so little time
It lasts forever, the pain of never
So much beauty, yet none of it mine
I feel the pain of never all the time

A kiss never kissed is a kiss always missed
Never living a dream
A word never said, just silence instead
It's a life never been
I'll never tell you, you'll never know
The hurt in the heart take won't go
You never saw me and you'll never know
Now I must go

You may as well be a star up in the sky
The distances between you and I

It lasts forever, the pain of never
So much beauty in so little time
It lasts forever, the pain of never
So much beauty, yet none of it mine
I feel the pain of never all the time

I feel the pain of never all the time...
