

Winter Sun

Marc Almond

Winter sun and winter light
On your pale face with your dark eyes
Silhouettes against the sky
Ghost of you and I

Kiss me one last time before it dies
Sun sinks with the golden shade
And says good-bye
Winter kisses die
Winter sun

Our love all gone by end of day
Phantoms in the winter sun
Like memories we melt away
Blood sinks in to snow
Where did our love go?

Black crows wait for bones
As noisy children throwing stones
Carefree playing in the snow
Where did our love go?

Black crows wait for bones
There's nothing left behind
Winter took all our love
With no bones left to find

Blinded by the bright of cruel winter light
We're gonna fade it with the winter sun
Nearly gone now
Winter sun

We're dimming with the glow
Where did our love go?
We melt away too soon
We're gone by afternoon
Like memories we melt
