Marc E. Bassy

Listen to your intuition
It's nothing that you're missing
Been around the world and I
Think that is worth living

Lovers walking hand-in-hand to the summer
Seasons always change. It's no wonder
Listen to the streets. Know's there are thunder and rain
If you're ever feeling lost, something's there for you
All you gotta do is notice in yourself
Something deep inside, something vulnerable

Listen you keep find the love inside you're missing
What it costs without in the conditions
Ooh don't blow my heart, I'm just living it up
'Til my time is up

We were meant for love walking through the night
Feel inspired by the rush
Can't believe this is the world you're living
Ooh it blows my mind. I'm just living it up before I die
