

Numb

Marc E. Bassy

Dumb a little numb to be honest
Before it was so great you were the kindest
Sometimes I can't tell where your mind is
If you need a little space then go and find it

Dumb a little numb to be honest
Before it was so great you were the kindest
Sometimes I can't tell where your mind is
If you need a little space then go and find it

Said she needed space she on the North Star
But she wanna come and ride when I cop me a new sports car
Now she feeling bad she switched her mind up
And I can't let her stay it's way more deeper than just play
And I lost her but don't know if I should find her
She causing too much pain and her heart is full of hate
And she said she wanna go and spend some time, yeah
So I should buy her a new watch and then just go about my way

Dumb a little numb to be honest
Before it was so great you were the kindest
Sometimes I can't tell where your mind is
If you need a little space then go and find it

Said I'm dumb a little numb
Dumb a little numb
Said I'm dumb a little numb

If time is money then I'm way too rich
I could never waste a dime on a problem that I can't fix
Like what you think of me in my oversized tee
I could give you the world if you'd ever trust me
But no, you got plans of your own everybody does
Couldn't stay at home now you gotta put on the bloody gloves
Dumb I feel numb, everybody does
It's a cold world, you could hide but what you running from?

Dumb a little numb to be honest
Before it was so great you were the kindest
Sometimes I can't tell where your mind is
If you need a little space then go and find it

Said I'm dumb a little numb
Dumb a little numb
Said I'm dumb a little numb
