

Stupid Love

Marc E. Bassy

We went from lovers to friends
Then back from friends into lovers
Why would we do this again?
Knowing it's killing each other
Tired of playing pretend
Kept the real me undercover
Swear this playlist never ends
One sad song leads to another

I know you think that you don't need nobody
And you're stubborn like me
And you out here tryna be somebody
And sometimes I wanna be you

You've got that stupid love
Almost got my bank account frozen
Stupid love
Boy you know that body too potent
Nothing is sweeter than diving in you
It's all-consuming, it got me confused
Stupid love
Only wanna cut me wide open

Playing mind games, yeah doctor
No diamond rings, too toxic
Want the finer things, you got options
When they 'cause of you I move cautious
Yeah I know that you don't need nobody
And you're stubborn like me, yeah
And you out here tryna be somebody
And sometimes I wanna leave, yeah

You've got that stupid love
Almost got my bank account frozen
Stupid love
Boy you know that body too potent
Nothing is sweeter than diving in you
It's all-consuming, it got me confused
Stupid love
Only wanna cut me wide open

Thought it'd be different but it never is
You got me twisted like a tourniquet
You're like that drug, I can never quit
Stupid me, stupid us

You've got that stupid love
Almost got my bank account frozen
Stupid love
Boy you know that body too potent
Nothing is sweeter than diving in you
It's all-consuming, it got me confused
Stupid love
Only wanna cut me wide open
