

Too Real

Marc E. Bassy

Even though it all changed, I'm gon' still sing your praises girl, your praises girl
We were one in the same, now we're going through phases yea, through phases
Look at you now
Sweeter than sugar for me
And I'm wondering now, if it's still the place to be
Tell me what's the difference now
I'm still the same and you still the same girl you used to be
Did the world get to you?
Girl did you change plans, it started with you and me
Life went and got too real
